

Cabot Corporation Increases Prices for Fumed Metal Oxides Globally

August 24, 2017

BOSTON – Effective September 25, 2017, or as contracts permit, Cabot Corporation will increase prices 6 percent globally for CAB-O-SIL® fumed and colloidal silicas, CAB-O-SPERSE® aqueous dispersions and SpectraAl® fumed alumina products.

The price increase has become necessary due to escalating raw material and operating costs, including environmental compliance, packaging and transportation. The price adjustments will enable Cabot to support investments related to supply reliability and environmental compliance requirements. Furthermore, it will help ensure that Cabot continues to provide customers with high-quality products, technology innovations and the highest level of customized service and technical support available.
